FARM HAND QUIZZED IN MICHIGAN SLAYINGS

OMNIBUS BILL MAY BE DRAFTED FOR F. D. R. PLAN

Congressional Leaders are Eager for Quick Action On Spending

LIST HEARINGS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Largest Item on Proposed Bill Is Billion and a Quarter for Relief

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Congressional leaders, eager for quick action, considered today drafting an "omnibus bill" to carry through congress President Roosevelt's main and public works recommendations for spending to end the recession.

Chairman Taylor (D., Colo.) of the house appropriations committee, indicated this procedure might be followed when he announced hearings would start Wednesday. He said Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins would be the first witness. Hearings should be completed, Taylor said, by May 1.

Relief Is Largest Item

The largest item in the big bill will be the proposed $1,250,000,000 for relief for the first seven months of the fiscal year, beginning July 1.

What other items will be included was under study. It was expected, however, to contain an allotment of $450,000,000 for public works grants to cities and states and whatever additional appropriations and authorizations may be necessary to provide for works loans.

Informed members said it was virtually certain the housing authority would need additional powers to carry out the proposed new $300,000,000 slum clearance program.

Administration agencies and congress acted yesterday to hasten other phases of the program.

The federal reserve board cut by about one-eighth the reserve funds formerly required of banks, thus increasing the total of money they have available for lending by about $750,000,000.

Previously the treasury had released gold credit amounting to $1,392,000,000.

The securities commission, in line with recommendations in Mr. Roosevelt's recovery message, simplified registration procedure to make it easier, faster and cheaper for small business firms to issue stocks and bonds

Get Prompt Attention

In congress some phases of the program which it was considered desirable not to include in the omnibus bill received prompt attention.

The senate appropriations committee approved the proposed $50,-

Files Damage Suit In Auto Accident

LISBON, April 16.—Lena Himmelspach of R. D., Salem, filed suit in common pleas court yesterday against Norman J. McGill of New Waterford, asking $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received in an automobile collision on the Damascus road, near Salem, March 9.

The plaintiff, in her petition, claims McGill passed the car in which she was riding with her daughter Lucia and then stopped suddenly, causing them to crash into the rear of McGill's machine. Injuries she received were of a permanent nature, she charges.

Figures Revealed In Analysis of Roosevelt Program

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Government spending and lending may reach a total of $11,500,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, an analysis of President Roosevelt's program indicated today.

About $9,000,000,000 of the total would be spent directly from the treasury and the remainder by self-financing agencies.

Here's how the figures stack up:

January estimate of treasury budget, $7,070,000,000.

New spending for recovery-relief (x) ,$1,712,000,000.

Probable relief for Feb.-June, 1938 (xx), $750,000,000.

RFC business loans (maximum) $1,500,000,000.

New slum clearance, $300,000,000.

Self-financing other corporations (roughly) $200,000,000.

Total, $11,532,000,000.

(x) Including upwards of $550,000,000 of PWA funds which may be financed outside the treasury.

(xx) The $1,250,000,000 relief item in F. D. R.'s program is specifically earmarked for the first seven months of the year.

Based on the President's most recent revenue predictions and assuming that PWA will borrow $550,000,000 outside the treasury, the indicated deficit in the 1939 fiscal year is $3,063,000,000.

COUNTY'S CROP QUOTA IS SET

65,393 Acres Is Figure for 1938, Association Chairman Announces

LISBON, April 16.—Columbiana county farmers may raise 65,393 acres of soil depleting crops in 1938, according to the quota announced Friday by R. W. Armstrong, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Conservation association.

Based on the aggregate supplied by state officers of the association, individual quotas are being prepared in the offices here for mailing to 5,025 farmers in the county. Of this number those subscribing to the program will be paid an average of $1.25 an acre if they conform to quota limitations.

Approximately 40 per cent of the farmers participated in the program in 1937, Armstrong stated. This year's quota represents a 10 per cent reduction under 1937 figures which totaled 72,240.6 acres.

Wheat, oats, buckwheat, rye or any crop cut and thrashed for grain as well as cultivated crops such as corn and vegetables are listed as soil depleting, Armstrong says. A participant raising more than his quota is subject to a deduction per excess acre of eight times the amount allowed.

How It Works

"If a farmer's quota is 10 acres," the chairman explained, "and if he is rated at $1.25 an acre he will be paid $12.50 if he conforms to the program. But if he raises 11 acres he will be penalized $10, reducing the amount he receives to $2.50."

There are 315,695 farm acres in the county, according to Armstrong, and 132,568 crop acres. Land, uncultivated for one reason or another, or abandoned, makes up the

Club Plans Series Of "Dinner Shoots"

The first of a series of four weekly "dinner shoots" will be held at the trap and skeet ranges at the Salem Country club at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

All Salem and district shooters are invited to compete. Teams will be selected by scores at the end of two weeks and at the close of the series the losing team will entertain the winning team at a dinner.

During the first two shoots, the marksmen will compete to determine which team they will be placed on.

Fifty Million CCC Fund Gets Approval

WASHINGTON, April 16 — The senate appropriations committee approved today a $50,000,000 increase in CCC funds for the next fiscal year in line with President Roosevelt's recommendations.

The proposed increase, previously approved by the house, would provide funds for continuing the present 1,501 civilian conservation camps.

Under regular appropriations, the number of camps would have been reduced by 301 on July 1.

Worshipers Here to Hail Resurrection At Special Rites Throughout Sunday

Church Program To Get Under Way With Sunrise Services; Morning, Afternoon, Evening Events Are Scheduled

Church bells throughout the city will peal tidings of the risen Christ tomorrow, summoning worshipers to the altar to herald the resurrection of the Lord.

Encouraged by splendid response to Holy Week services, pastors of the various churches look forward to crowded pews for the annual Easter Sunday rites.

Sunrise Service Planned

Six churches have planned sunrise services in addition to special ceremonies at morning and evening worship. Those listing sunrise rites are Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, Christian , Emmanuel Lutheran, Holy Trinity English Lutheran and A. M. E. Zion.

St. Paul's Catholic church will have five masses, starting at 6 a. m. and continuing at 7:30, 9, 10:30 and 11:30. The solemn high mass will be at 9 o'clock.

The choral Eucharist will be sung at the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal) at 11 a. m. following Holy Communion and a children's festival service at 9.30 a. m.

The Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches will hold a union evening service, but each will have its own morning rites.

Two Easter anthems by the choir, reception of members and baptism will be features of the Methodist morning worship. The Presbyterian church will have reception of members, a sermon by Rev. R. D. Walter and a vocal solo by W. Wentz Alspaugh at the morning service.

The final sermon in a special Lenten series will be preached by Rev. C. F. Evans at the morning worship of the Christian church.

The combined choirs of the Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches will present a program at

Joe Kelley's Egg Hunt Is Success; 1,200 Take Part

Scamper Away With 310 Dozens of Eggs From School Lots

Salem's annual Easter egg hunt this morning proved to be a grand success when an estimated crowd of 1,200 youngsters turned out to search for 310 dozens of eggs hidden on the various public school grounds.

Joseph M. Kelley, Memorial building manager who annually sponsors the affair, said a last-minute appeal brought in more eggs than were ever received before and that the boys and girls turned out this time in a greater number.

The eggs were colored by Kelley and his Memorial building assistants yesterday and then hidden early this morning at Reilly, McKinley, Columbia, Prospect and Fourth Street school grounds. St. Paul children took part in the hunts at the various other schools.

Boy Scouts, who helped to hide the eggs, also watched as the other youngsters scanned every inch of space on the school yards. And don't think for a second that the boys didn't give the girls a chance to find the eggs.. Kelley and his aids saw to it that even the smallest tots found a few eggs, even if they had to sneak up behind them and drop a few.

Later, Kelley expressed his appreciation to all who helped in the Easter frolic, especially those who contributed the eggs.

W. H. Mullins Estate Counsel Fee Is Set

LISBON,, April 16—Probate Judge H. W. Hammond allowed a counsel fee of $10,000 Friday in connection with the administration of the estate of the late William H. Mullins, Salem manufacturer. The judge also granted a $4,000 fee to the administrator as extraordinary compensation.

The estate was valued at $206,000 at the time of Mr. Mullins' death several years ago. Since then court records show its value has mounted to $238,000, representing a $32,000 valuation increase.

The court in fixing the fees took the increased value into consideration as well as management and advantageous adjustments made in the interest of trust funds created by the will.

CLYDE COMPANY WILL MAKE TILE

Mullins Secures Agency For Manufacture of Enamel Product

George E. Whitlock, president of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation today announced the successful termination of negotiations of special interest in the field of porcelain enamel tile.

For some time the Mullins Manufacturing corporation and its predecessor, the Youngstown Pressed Steel company of Warren, have been engaged in the development of a porcelain enameled steel wall tile known as veos tile.

Mullins has been looking for a means of assuring continuation of its development work coupled with an agency for general distribution. Davidson Enamel company of Clyde, Ohio, has been engaged for some time in the field of porcelain enamel.

Negotiations between officials of the two companies have resulted in an arrangement satisfactory to both. It is contemplated that the manufacture of these tiles will be transferred to the plant of Davidson Enamel company and there carried on.

Mullins to Acquire Stock

It is expected that Mullins will acquire a substantial stock interest through reorganization of Davidson, and will be represented on the board of directors by electing half of its members.

The necessary additional financing has been satisfactorily arranged, though various legal details connected with the reorganization, ownership of subsidiary companies and the like have not yet been completed.

The Mullins Manufacturing corporation is sending out to its trade notification that effective Monday, Davidson Enamel company will handle all shipments and invoices covering tile operation.

Because of the gratifying spring demand for veos tile no attempt will be made to move the tile equipment to Clyde for at least six weeks, during which time the production equipment at Warren will be running 24 hours a day taking care of the orders Mullins now has on its books.

New Products at Warren

Mullins contemplates the manufacture of new products in its Warren plant utilizing the space now occupied by the tile division, with a number of additional employes. Furthermore, it is felt that in the highly specialized porcelain plant of the Davidson Enamel company tile can be produced and marketed more economically and that the resulting saving to the consumer will bring ultimately much larger sales.

No announcement has been made by Mullins or Davidson officials concerning the directors or personnel of the new Davidson company, other than the fact that Thornton E. Stokes, marketing manager of Mullins, has resigned to accept an executive position with the Davidson Enamel company at Clyde. It is presumed that Mullins' executives will serve on the Davidson board, though no definite announcement has been made.

ALF COMMENTS ON F.D.R. TALK

Says Speech Sounded Good If You Had Heard It For First Time

EMPORIA, Kas., April 16.—Alf M. Landon, dressed in oil field clothes, dropped into the Emporia Gazette office Friday on his way to visit one of his oil wells.

"Governor," asked one of William Allen White's reporters, "what do you think about the President's radio speech last night?"

The 1936 Republican presidential nominee grinned and answered:

"The speech sounded good if you had heard it for the first time. But having heard it so many times before, I couldn't help but think all the time the president was delivering it of the fact that there are as many unemployed today as there were when he went into office. I guess the increase in the national income which he bragged of didn't mean much to that large group."

MINE HAZARDS HIT BY TETLOW

Fully As Important As Fixing Prices, Says Acting Commission Head

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Percy Tetlow, who rose from a humble miner's bleak existence to acting chairman of the National Bituminous Coal commission, said today that reduction of mining hazards presented the commission with a problem that paralleled in importance that of price fixing.

The Ohio man, a native of Washingtonville, asserted that "many if not most of the mine accidents, are the result of a producer not having sufficient income to keep his equipment in safe repair, and pay his workmen enough to assure a healthful standard of living."

Mine accidents, he added, took a monetary loss of approximately 25 cents for each ton of coal produced, plus the tragic human aspect.

"This staggering bill is passed directly to the consumer," he said. "These and other bad conditions within the industry can be alleviated with the improvement in the economic structure."

Tetlow's first action as acting chairman of the commission was a conference with representatives of the industry, the consumers' counsel representing the coal-buying public and national executives. He said he is seeking a basis of fact upon which to establish minimum prices that would be approved in court. Earlier fixed prices were upset by legal action.

Tetlow was a miner at 12 and eventually rose to become president of District 6, United Mine Workers, an Ohio legislator and a member of the fourth Ohio Constitutional convention.

The 11 o'clock service will include baptism of children and reception of new members. Rev. J. C. Wilson will speak on the subject, "The Reality of the Spiritual In Our Daily Lives" and the choir will present selection from the cantata, "The First Easter."

At the Lutheran church Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10:45 a. m., when Rev. C. J. Sutorius will speak on the theme, "The Easter Message of the Risen Lord." The Luther League will meet at 6:30 p. m. Miss Alta Mulch will present an Easter topic entitled "Our Hope In Christ." Devotionals will be in charge of Carol Simpson and Harry Heltzel and Charles Essenwein will play a violin and clarinet duet.

A week of special services at the Zion Hill Church of the Brethren will close Sunday evening with the celebration of Holy Communion. On next Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fish, Columbus, known as "The Gospel Musicians," will present "The Prodigal Son," a service of sacred music.

A junior choir in charge of Mrs. Paul Price will assist with the music at the Easter dawn service of Grace Reformed church, starting at six. Rev. W. R. Gobrecht will speak on "What If Christ Is Not Risen?" Holy Communion will be administered at this service and also at 10:45. "The Gospel of Easter" will be the sermon subject.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will hold a sunrise service starting at 6:30 and a breakfast will follow. At 10:45 the choir directed by Mrs.. R. J. Barrow will present a cantata, "Hail Redeemer." Children will also be baptized.

TRIPLE MURDER IS LIKENED TO N. LIMA TRAGEDY

Farm Folk Beaten; Assailant Seizes Car, Money and Escapes

MAHONING CASE STORY REVEALED

Norman Smith Declares: "I Simply Had the Urge to Kill"

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, April 16.—Michigan state police officers investigating a triple farm slaying in that state arrived today to question Norman Smith, 19, who confessed to Mahoning County Sheriff Ralph Elser he killed an Ohio farm family of three because he "simply had the urge".

The young farmhand was seized yesterday and confessed, Elser said, to slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumeister and the former's father, Theodore, last Jan. 4, about three weeks after he entered their employ.

He was captured near Edinburg at a farm where he obtained a job after a wandering flight through the midwest.

Pennsylvania Native

Sheriff Elser said Smith, native of Indiana county in Pennsylvania, confessed orally he had quarreled with the Baumeisters over wages, but in a written statement said, "I simply had the urge to kill."

A tip from a woman who noticed Smith's resemblance to photos of the fugitive led to his apprehension.

Capt. Ira Marmon, chief of Michigan State police detectives, sent Detectives Joseph Pierce and Pat Dillon from Detroit to determine whether Smith might be connected with the year-old slaying of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, aged 76 and 74, and Davis' sister, Mrs. Lydia Hildebrant, 72, near Fenton, Mich.

All were beaten fatally by a farmhand identified in murder warrant as Ray Larson. The accused fled, authorities said, with the farmer's truck and $800 in currency. The vehicle was abandoned in Flint.

Larson worked for the Davis family a month, but disclosed little about himself. Captain Marmon said sufficient similarity existed between the Michigan and Ohio slayings to warrant investigation.

Wields Iron Pipe

Smith's signed confession, Elser said, related that he felled Mrs. Baumeister in the barn with an iron pipe.

"I hit her several times," the statement read, "then I drew a knife and slashed her. I hid her body under some corn stalks. A few minutes later, Theodore entered and I did the same to him. I went to the house and waited 15 minutes for Henry to return home.

"When he entered, I pointed a shotgun at him and pulled the trigger. The shot hit him in the stomach, but he didn't fall right away. I grabbed the barrel of the gun and hit him over the head several times. The gun stock broke."

Elser quoted Smith as saying he slept in 15 jails on his midwest jaunt.

STATE PROBES $15,000 BLAZE

Old East Liverpool Church Building Damaged by Flames of Mysterious Origin

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 16.—An investigation was ordered today in a $15,000 fire which gutted the interior of the old United Presbyterian church building at Fifth and Market st., last night, and caused principal damage to the People's Credit Clothing store.

The fire, which was of mysterious origin, was discovered at 9:30 and kept firemen on the job for three hours.

The state fire marshal will come here Monday. Meanwhile, the building was boarded up and placed under guard.

Damage to the clothing store stock, owned by Lewis Wolfberg, Inc., of New York, amounted to $6,000. The fire caused slight damage to a doughnut shop and four other small shops in the same building.

NO. 1 RUGGED INDIVIDUALIST

You have to hand it to Mrs. Roosevelt for staying in the swim through thick and thin.

When her goings and comings began to be news, back in 1932, her countrymen decided that here was the most interesting woman of their times and began to givė her that critical scrutiny which is the cross all notables must bear.

It would have thrown most women off their strides, but not Mrs. Roosevelt. She kept right on doing what she always had done, not even blinking in the limelight. It was just about the greatest exhibition of courageous individualism staged in this country.

Mrs. Roosevelt hasn't even balked at having her picture taken in this year's new millinery, choosing both a sailor model and, shall we say, an inverted salad bowl for the occasion. This is tops in fortitude.

ONE MORE EASTER

Easter is changeless, unaffected either by man's endless search for the new or his constant rediscovery of the old.

In times like these, changeless is a precious attribute. Truth is, men grow tired of change, becoming as bored with its repetition as with lack of change. They seek a golden mean in which the new and the rediscovered old will be balanced with what already is.

They long for concepts to which they can cling securely year in and year out. Easter is such a concept.

Even before the time of Christ, it was celebrated by pagans as a festival of spring. When Christianity gave it more exalted significance, setting it aside as the church's greatest festival, its continuance was more than ever assured. Resurrection is a fundamental concept of men's minds—a beautiful symbol of the completion of the life cycle, not at the point of death, but at a point after death where life shall be renewed by ascendancy of the spirit.

Throughout the Christian era, this idea has endured without change, a landmark to guide wandering humanity in its quest for salvation.

WON'T THAT BE FUN?

The great unseen audience which enjoyed Jackie Coogan as a child star never begrudged exploitation of his talents. If it had, Jackie wouldn't have earned so much money. The child star business is touchy. The public demands reassurance that the little darlings are in kind hands.

So when Jackie's stepfather tells the press the young man, now 23 years old, isn't going to get a cent of income from his past earnings and quotes law to the effect that "every dollar a kid earns before he is 21 years old belongs to his parents," he's biting off a mouthful of controversy.

He's not only tangling up with more than a hundred million persons who take their movies seriously, but taking a kick at the moving picture industry. If it can't assure its customers the money passed in at the boxoffice for a peek at the child stars is going to be passed out to the little boys and girls when they grow up, won't that be fun?

It would play hob with a certain extremely lucrative branch of their business. Jackie Cooper's stepfather is going to find out, if he doesn't know it already, that he has a bear by the tail. He'd better let go.

IMPROVEMENTS

The three, or rather six, improvements named by the President in his message to congress as needed at this time—to help, not to hurt, business—stand in danger of being lost in the huge figures of the rest of the message.

Elimination of tax exempt government bonds as a future policy is an old question in a new form, due to the government's vast debt at present and the fact it is held largely by banks and other institutions. The situation is not the same as it was when abolition of tax exempt bonds would have had a greater effect on individual holders. It is a question whether government in the long run would be able to make up in revenue from these securities what it would have to pay out in additional interest to make its securities attractive if they were not exempt from taxation.

Subjection of government salaries and wages to federal and state income taxes is, of course, sound. This privilege, based on an interpretation of the Constitution, should not be continued. It is evidjent that a greatly expanded list of public jobholders is not entitled to preferential treatment in collecting the revenue which supports them.

Lumping the railroad problem, monopolistic practices and price fixing in a breath scarcely does credit to the proportions of each one of the subjects, but the President could not have ignored them when speaking of proper subjects of legislation. It is to be expected he will have more to say about them later.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, April 17

Sunday's horoscope holds signs of many disagreeable and adverse situations affecting the private as well as the business life. Quarrels, dangers, robbery, loss and hidden menaces make a day calling for extra watchfulness and precaution. The mind may be keyed up to a nervous or irresponsible pitch.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of conflicting or disagreeable situations, with loss, robbery, subtle dangers and strife. The mentality may have irregular or eccentric leanings tending to aggravate adverse conditions unless it be turned in the direction of invention or creative ideas of a unique or novel slant.

A child born on this day may have a high-pitched or erratic temperament which might be turned into invention of novel or unique objects, or the writing of an unusual type of romantic literature. It may have a difficult, extravagant and bombastic nature, although it may be generous and kindly.

For Monday, April 18

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of rather contradictory conditions, with the promise of the breaking away of old obstructions and stagnant matters to make way for some rather important progress on new plans. But the latter seem to be beset by financial hazards or other elements of danger.

Those whose birthday it is may expect some very alluring opportunities to develop during the year, following the removal of some tenacious obstacles or other frustrating circumstances. Through prudence and good judgment, a welcome stabilization of the fortunes is possible, even though there are hazards of loss and heavy expenditure.

A child born on this day may be ambitious and adventurous, with inflated ideas and much optimism. But it should likewise have sound judgment and much stability, attracting the aid of elderly friends by their dependability and worthiness in perilous situations.

DICTATORSHIPS GIVEN TRIPLE WARNING

BY DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

NEW YORK, April 15. — The United States, speaking through the President and two of his foreign envoys, has handed the dictatorships a triple warning, the burden of which is that the old Monroe doctrine still is in force and that outsiders are to keep hands off the Americas.

It was a neat piece of team-work, timing and all, with the chief executive finishing the play by declaration that the American nations would not permit peace in the western herisphere "to be endangered from aggression coming from outside."

No Misunderstanding

Lest there be any misunderstanding as to how far the United States would go in defense of principles, Hugh Wilson, our ambassador in Berlin, already had pointed Mr. Roosevelt's remarks. Said Wilson in an address which called for no interpretation:

"I know there are some things our nation would fight for."

Meanwhile, down in Lima, Peru, Ambassador Steinhardt, in a broadcast to all Latin American countries, urged that the American nations present a united front against old world "predatory forces" seeking "new or lost fields to conquer."

If any doubt as to whether America had tossed the Monroe doctrine into the waste-basket, that doubt would seem to have been removed. The doctrine still lives, and the President has placed it on an inter-American basis.

The declaration comes at the moment when the Washington state department is trying to iron olt the crisis revolving about Mexico's confiscation ofr American oil wells.

Possibilities Obvious

The possibilities of some foreign nation or nations trying to take advantage of this situation are obvious. Alreacy Japan is said to have been looking into the feasibility of some pact with the Mexican government which among other things would give Nippon access to this oil.

The declaration also comes at a time when the three so-called Fascist powers—Japan, Germany and Italy—are making strenuous drives to strengthen their already considerable foothold in South American countries, notably Brazil and the Argentine.

He Am What He Am

SAN DIEGO—Popeye, the sailor! Ed Holcomb, 15, disappeared from home, taking only a can of spinach.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

CANCER

Dr. Copeland

IT HAS been a year since I last told you about the campaign against cancer. At that time, you will recall, I pointed out that the American Society for the Control of Cancer had organized a vigorous and continuous campaign against this dread disease. It is preached by this worthy society that if everyone could be made to recognize the early signs of cancer, much more rapid progress could be made against this disease. This I believe to be the truth.

Since the be-educational campaign, which has enlisted the activities of a host of women, many cases of early cancer have been detected. Think what this means: Early recognition with appropriate treatment guarantees complete cure in most cases.

Different Picture

How different is the encouraging present from the unhappy conditions which existed in 1900, for example, when only a handful of persons lived who had been cured of cancer. Today, tens of thousands of persons are well and happy, five, 10 and even 15 years after they have been successfully treated for this disease. It is hoped and believed that by the spreading of knowledge concerning cancer it will be possible vastly to increase the number of cured cases.

Let me point out to you some danger signals of cancer. The society I have mentioned believes that more than 70,000 lives might be saved annually if everyone were familiar with the painless signs of the disease. Surely all who read should know the importance of early medical care.

Any abnormal thickening of tissue or a lump, especially in the breast, should arouse suspicion. Any unexplained bleeding or discharge from an opening of the body should be investigated to find the cause. Medical consultation should be the rule in every such instance.

Other Conditions

Another condition that must not be neglected is a sore that does not heal. This is particularly true if it involves the tongue, or the lips. Digestive disturbances of a chronic nature, with gas formation, especially if the trouble is accompanied by loss of weight, are always danger signals which should not be overlooked.

Any sudden change in the form, size or shape of a mole or wart may mean danger. This should arouse suspicion and immediate consultation with a physician is advised. Delay may be dangerous.

Of course, the danger signals I have mentioned do not necessarily mean cancer. But the persistence of any one of these symptoms should lead to a careful medical examination. It is far better to be overanxious than to be careless because we all know the disease is often rapid in its evil effects.

I am more than confident that the continuation of this cancer campaign will do much to control a terrible disease. Combined with the extensive research that is being carried on in laboratories throughout the world, those back of this movement should be encouraged in their efforts.

Wellsburg Company Spurns NLRB Order

WELLSBURG, W. Va., April 16—The Eagle Manufacturing company, which last week was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board to repudiate an agreement with the Eagle Employes Alliance, announced today it would refuse to obey the order.

President H. W. Paull of the company, which makes metal specialities and oilers, made public a letter to William Elcessor, president of the alliance, in which he said:

"The Eagle Manufacturing company will not withdraw recognition of the Eagle Employes Alliance.

"We will resist to the limit in the courts of the United States any effort to make us do so."

The NLRB, acting on charges of the Amalgamated Iron, Steel and Tin Workers union (CIO), ruled the company had "fostered and dominated the alliance" and had coerced its employes. It ordered the company to hold an election to determine bargaining representatives.

Receive Members At Holy Trinity Church Tomorrow

Reception of new members and administration of the sacrament of Holy Baptism to adults will be a part of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church tomorrow, Easter Sunday or the festival of the resurrection of our Lord.

There will also be public confession of sins, celebration of the sacrament of Holy Communion and a sermon by Rev. George D. Keister, pastor, on the subject, "The Empty Cross."

Complete services are as follows: Sunday school, 9:45, (Acts 2:22-36); Charles W. Youtz, superintendent.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is one of the best attested facts of history. There were many who fought this truth and fact in the first century, but the truth and fact "Christ is risen from the dead, even as He said" prevailed in spite of false witness and fierce opposition. The risen Christ in the hope of victory for every believing Christian. The resurrection proven beyond a doubt that Jesus was divine and was the Son of God, the Savior of Men as he so boldly declared. The victory of Jesus means victory of every believer in the hour of death. "O death where is thy sting, O grave, where is thy victory."

Morning worship, 11:00—Sermon and other rites.

It was an empty Cross that the disciples beheld on that first Easter Day. They had taken the body of our dear Lord down first from the Cross. His sufferings were over. The work of redemption was accomplished. They put His body in the tomb. Now the tomb was occupied. Yet on Easter Day even the tomb was empty. No one had stolen His body. The Roman soldiers prevented that. He had come to life. He was no longer a dead Jesus. He was the living and victorious Christ.

"Christ is risen! Alleluia!
Risen our victorious Head!
Sing His praises! Alleluia!
Christ is risen from the dead!"

Luther League, 6:30 a. m.—This sunrise service is open to the public. Devotional topic is, "Our Hope in Christ"; leader, Dan Balan. A breakfast at the church will be held at 7:30.

An Etenal Sensation

When on the First Easter morning the angel of God announced at the open tomb of Jesus "He is not here; He is risen," he proclaimed the most thrilling, startling and sensational happening that has ever transpired on the face of the earth. It affected not only the contemporaries of the risen Christ, but was retroactive in its significance back to the first man that ever lived and including in its forward-reaching blessing that last man that shall draw breath on the face of this good old earth. It was sensational in its meaning for us. It has lost none of its thrilling power because it declares and establishes our eternal redemption. It is the divine declaratios of our independence from the thraldom of hell and the doom of everlasting rejection from God. It opens heaven for us. It gives sense and meaning to our temporal existance. Even in these times of frequent sensations nothing is so sensational as the story of Christ's resurrection from the dead.

As its redeemed beneficiaries Emmanuel church invites you to celebrate this sensation on Easter morning in the house of God.

Announcements

On Monday evening the members of the Luther league will go to Youngstown to take part in the bimonthly meeting of the Youngstown and vicinity federated Luther leagues.

Christian Science Society Services

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read at the morning worship service of the Christian Science society tomorrow. The Sunday service is also broadcast over radio station WHK, Cleveland, the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Sunday school for pupils up to the age of 20 years will be held at 9:30 a. m., while on Wednesday the regular mid-week service will be held at the church at 8 p. m.

The Golden Text is: "I and my Father are one." (John 10:30.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. . . . Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another." (Romans 12:9-10.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Dost thou love the Lord with all thy soul, and with all thy mind? This command includes much, even the surrender of all merely material sensational, affection and worship."

Steubenville Trio In Illicit Alcohol Ring Are Sentenced

COLUMBUS, April 16.—Vincent Reo of Cleveland was sentenced Friday to a year and a day in a federal prison and James Epifano and Adam Martello, both of Steubenville were assessed two years and a $1,500 fine, respectively, for participation in an illicit alcohol cracking ring. Martello also was placed on probation for two years.

Federal District Judge Mell G. Underwood sentenced 10 other men and placed two on probation in the same case Tuesday. Fred Bickart of Cleveland is to be sentenced April 21.

Attorneys for six of the 16 persons gave notice of appeals today.

All the defendants were convicted of operating plants in Steubenville, Cleveland and Painesville, O., and Pittsburgh for converting denatured alcohol into beverage alcohol in 1935 and 1936.

Plan Music Event At Leetonia High

LISBON, April 16.—The elementary grades of the Columbiana county schools will hold their second annual music festival at the Leetonia High school auditorium April 20, starting at 8:15 p. m.

Music supervisors of the county will present individual programs, including soloists, instrumental ensembles and choruses. Approximately 500 students will appear in the latter and 100 in the orchestra.

A bronze cup will be awarded the school with the largest number of instrumental students starting this year. The festival culminates an extensive music program inaugurated this year by the county board of education under the supervision of George Bretz.

Supervisors under Bretz, whose students will appear at this time are: Sylvester Amsler, Salineville; Rachel Elliott, rural schools; Minnetta Esterly, New Waterford school; Carol Fisher, Leetonia; William Galen, Rolla Hole, Dorothy Krem, Elizabeth Fisher, rural schools; Donald Lusk, Fairfield centralized

Rep. Armbruster In U. S. Senate Race

COLUMBUS, April 15.—Representative Chris Armbruster (D.-Henry) announced here today his intention to oppose Former Gov. George White's candidacy for U. S. Senator.

"The former governor told delegation after delegation that visited him in the executive office in behalf of my road bond refunder bill that he was 100 per cent for it and then kept it bottled up in a house committee," Armbruster said.

A road bond refunder bill was finally passed by the legislature during Gov. Martin L. Davey's first term, but it was held unconstitutional by the supreme court.

Thermometer Up In N. York; Why Not?

NEW YORK, April 16 — The mayor of Hell came to New York Friday and the thermometer went up to 80 degrees, a record-breaking high for the date.

The mayor, Lorentz Stenvig of Hell, Norway, explained as he rode up the bay in the Norwegian-American liner Stavangerfjord that the word "Hill" in Norwegian means slope. And the village is built on sloping ground.

He said tourists had a lot of fun buying round trip railroad tickets to Hell and sending them to friends.

Railroads To Boost Some Freight Rates

COLUMBUS, April 16—Railroads operating in Ohio were authorized by the state utilities commission today to increase intra-state freight rates, effective April 21. The increases, ranging from 5 to 10 per cent, conformed except for 20 exceptions with higher tariffs allowed by the interstate commerce commission March 8.

The exceptions included rates on paper boxes, brick, paving block, glass containers, sand, sewer pipe, steel, barrels and drums, tanks and tile, and fertilizer, rates for which will be set later.

Past Noble Grands To Have Dinner

Michigan Governor Backs F.D.R. Plan

WASHINGTON, April 16—Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan said today he believed President Roosevelt's proposed $4,500,000,000 program of lending and spending would stimulate recovery in the automotive industry.

"I'm convinced," he said, "that this program will mean the recovery of the automotive industry and when that gets going it will carry along with it other industries and business in general."

He estimated Michigan's unemployed workers at 470,000 which he said was attributable largely to reduced operations in the motor car plants.

Judge Stops Trial —In Self Defense

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 16.—Federal Judge C. C. Wyche wrinkled his nose, sniffed, fidgeted a moment—then interrupted a defendant who was testifying.

"What have you been eating, onions?"

"No, sir," the defendant replied, "garlic."

"Let the court recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning," Judge Wyche ruled.

Chicago's Mystery Solved By Janitor

CHICAGO, April 16.—A crowd of people gathered around a pool of red liquid on a loop sidewalk. Someone mentioned blood. Another telephoned police that someone had jumped out a window.

Police found a janitor mopping up the red spot. He told them a boy had dropped a bottle of red ink.

Fritz Crisler In Akron As Speaker

AKRON, April 16.—Fritz Crisler, new coach at the University of Michigan, didn't give away any secrets when he addressed Michigan alumni here last night.

Asked what type of football he would introduce at Michigan, Crisler said there were only two kinds —"good and bad, and I hope to be able to put over the good type."

Old Home Week

DENVER—Joe Tronsoca, 27, visited a friend in county jail.

A guard recognized him as a prisoner who had escaped from a road gang.

"Only God knows why I came back," said Tronsoca as he went to a cell to serve out a 28-day sentence for disturbance.

Glandular Troubles Treated Merely By Rubbing On Lotion

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—An effective treatment for some types of glandular disturbances by merely rubbing a lotion containing sex hormones into the skin was reported today before the American Association of Anathomists.

In one of the outstanding medical papers delivered before the association's 50th annual meeting, Dr. Carl R. Moore and his assistants, Jule K. Lamar and Naomi Beck, of the University of Chicago, declared that the powerful hormones, ordinarily secreted normally by the glands, are much more effective when smeared on the skin than when injected into the body.

It had already been discovered that the hormones could be absorbed through the skin. Dr. Moore said, but the multiplied effect compared with injections is a new discovery. This method of administration was declared by members of the association to open up a new field of treatment of many human diseases, particularly those of women, caused by malfunctioning of the glands.

The ease of administrating the hormones is in itself a danger, however, Dr. Moore declared, because unsupervised dosage will cause radical and harmful changes in the sex glands of both men and women.

BACK POTTERS IN LOCAL DRIVE

No Funds Necessary, Say Officials of "Buy American' Move

While many organizations, civic bodies and the like, are backing members of local No. 42, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, in their Buy American drive, Fred Shaffer, secretary of the Buy American committee here, explained today that groups supporting the movement are not obligated financially.

The organizations supporting the drive also are asked by the officers of the local to send representatives to the meetings which are being held weekly. Proceeds of a fish fry in K. of P. hall April 23 are to be turned over to the Buy American committee, Shaffer said.

J. H. Lindsay, sales manager of the Limoges China Co of Sebring, addressed a recent meeting of the local. He was introduced by Floyd W. McKee, vice president of the Salem China and the Limoges China companies.

Lindsay spoke on "How Japan Copies From the United States." He exhibited pieces of Japanese-made ware which were so fashioned that they could not be discerned from the American-made pottery.

The speaker explained that 75 per cent of pottery manufactured in America goes for wages, while in Japan only 25 per cent is for wages.

Seven-Month Relief Bill Before House

WASHINGTON, April 16.—House appropriations committee members arranged today to start hearings Monday on President Roosevelt's request for $1,250,000,000 for relief in the seven months starting July 1.

Congressional leaders had not decided, however, whether to attempt to incorporate the entire recovery program in one big bill. Senate Democratic Leader Barkley said he planned to confer with house chieftains promptly about the course to be followed.

House Democratic Leader Rayburn said legislators who had discussed the program with the President received the impression no new legislation would be necessary for the public works administration.

If it should be, it probably would be included in the relief appropriation bill, since the appropriations committee has handled all PWA appropriations anyway.

Hoboes, At Confab, Draft Mooney Plea

ALTOONA, Pa., April 16.—Officers of America's hoboes sent a telegram today to Governor Merriam of California asking freedom for Tom Mooney, serving a life term for the Preparadness day bombing of 1916 at San Francisco.

The action was ordered in a resolution adopted unanimously last night by the 30th annual convention of the Itinerant Workers union, Hoboes of America.

Another resolution expressed faith in Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio for his work "in behalf of the unemployed of Ohio."

Father Races Stork

OGDEN, Utah, April 16.—It was father who raced the stork—and won.

While an expectant mother lay on a blanket in front of a hospital, the frantic father-to-be staged a hurried campaign to raise a $30 entrance fee. He had only $15 but rounded up another $15 before the stork arrived.

Takes New Post

MONTREAL, April 16.—Dr. Everett C. Hughes, graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university and assistant sociligy professor at McGill university since 1927, will assume a similar position at the University of Chicago at the end of this term, it was announced today.

Dies In Dayton

DAYTON, April 16.—Rev. Solomon Good, 93, who established numerous parishes of the Brethren of Christ church in Ohio and Indiana and was active in church work more than 65 years, died yesterday after a fall at his home.

RACKET CHIEF GIVES SELF UP

Jacob Gurrah, However, Finds Himself Facing Lifetime In Prison

NEW YORK, April 16.—A threat of a lifetime in prison, instead of the two years he surrendered to serve, today hung over Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro, bull-necked king of the rackets and reputed ally of midwestern underworlds.

The threat came from the possibility that, while already serving one term and facing trial in two more cases, he might be indicted again under the 1934 federal anti-rackets act which provides a possible maximum sentence of 99 years.

Hunted the world over, with $7,500 offered for his capture and $7,500 more for Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, his erstwhile partner, "Gurrah" walked up to a guard at the federal house of detention yesterday and said simply, "I want to surrender."

He added wearily that he was tired of being dogged by police—he who once boasted that he could dispose of a federal indictment for $1.50.

"Lepke" still is missing.

Both men, accused of muscling into the $85,000,000 fur dressing industry in New York and New Jersey, were convicted under the Sherman anti-trust act of conspiracy to monopolize the rabbit fur industry by strong-arm methods.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said they were "two of the most notorious criminals in this country."

The G-Man chief identified them also as the reputed New York contacts for the notorious Barker-Karpis gang and for Verne Miller, who was named as trigger-man with Charles (Pretty Boy)) Floyd and Adam Richetti in the Kansas City Union station massacre.

Warning Is Sounded By Security Board

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The social security board has threatened "appropriate action" in the event employes of the Ohio unemployment compensation commission are subjected to political assessments on their salaries.

The board issued a formal statement to that effect when asked about reports employes were requested to contribute to political campaigns.

"It appears from the Ohio civil service law that no person may lawfully solicit any political contribution from any officer or employe of the classified civil service of the state," the statement said.

The enforcement of this law is the responsibility of the appropriate state officials. If at any time, evidence is presented to the social security board that employes of the Ohio unemployment compensation commission are not being paid their full salaries, or that any part of their salaries is being withheld for political campaign purposes, the social security board will be required to take appropriate action."

The board has power to suspend grants for administrative expenses or social security payments to any state conforming with the social security act.

Suspended Sentence Given Ohio Youth

ANGOLA, Ind., April 16.—Edwin Willett, 19, of Byran, O., was the beneficiary today of the first suspended sentence ever granted by Judge Clyde C. Carlin in a jury conviction.

Willett was convicted 10 days ago of involuntary manslaughter in the death of Chester Crawford, of Affuburn, who died after a fist fight. Judge Carlin gave Willett a suspended sentence of one to 10 years in the reformatory.

State Auditor Holds Up Salary Payments To Solons' Relatives

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 16—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson asserted today that he did not intend to issue further warrants to relatives of deceased members of the 92nd general assembly for salary payments during the unexpired terms as provided in house resolutions.

"With all due respect to the beneficiaries of the several resolutions," Ferguson declared in a statement, "I do not feel that these monthly payments constitute legal, valid claims against the state of Ohio. These payments are nothing more or less than donations or gifts of the taxpayers money".

House resolutions approved payments totaling $723.75 a month to Mrs. George H. Thorne, widow of the Democratic representative from Greene county; Mrs. Newton A. Fairbanks, widow of the Republican representative from Clark county; Mrs. John L. Richards, widow of the Republican representative from Carroll county Mrs. Charles E. ast, widow of the Democratic representative from Stark county, and Norma C. Gilpin, sister of the late Arthur C. Gilpin, Democratic representative from Van Wert county.

U. S. Makes Cut In State's Road Fund

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 16. — State Highway Director John Jaster, Jr., said today that a sharp reduction in U. S. highway appropriations for the fiscal year, starting July 1, probably would curtail the federal road program in Ohio this summer.

Commenting on approval of the house appropriations committee in Washington of only $100,000,000 for highways during the coming year, Jaster said the cut "probably would be felt in Ohio by late summer."

In Washington it was said that the sum appropriated would finance the current highway program until Congress reconvenes in January but Jaster indicated he believed Ohio would feel effects of the slash much sooner.

Jaster said the extensive federal road program in this state was confined to major highways but that some secondary road funds were provided.

Chairman Cartwright (D-Okla) of the house roads committee in Washington said he would seek to have the funds increased to $200,000,000, the approximate figure annually authorized by congress in recent years.

New U. S. Submarine Has Engine Trouble

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The navy confirmed reports today that the Pomano, one of its newest submarines, developed engine trouble on its recent shakedown cruise and that an inquiry had been ordered.

No question of sabotage or culpability was involved, officials said., They asserted the inquiry, to be made by a board of investigation of three officers at the Mare Island, Calif., navy yard, was a "routine matter."

Details of the difficulties with the Diesel motors, which were built by a private manufacturer, were withheld, but officials said "nothing terribly serious was involved." They said the trouble was primarily one of adjustment.

The Pompano, built at the Mare Island yard at a cost of more than $4,000,000, was completed 10 months ago. It has been delayed two months in joining the fleet since its return Feb. 14 from a six-week shakedown cruise to the Canal Zone.

Italo-German Aid To Rebels Charged

LONDON, April 16—It was learned authoritatively today that the Spanish government had submitted a new document to Britain, charging that in two months preceding April 1 the Spanish insurgents received at least 471 Italian planes and at least 249 German craft.

The memorandum also asserted that a large supply of aerial bombs had been landed recently at insurgent Bilbao along with 350 German tanks and crews.

Mexican Silver Not Barred From Nation

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 16—Secretary Morgenthau said today that the treasury had not barred Mexican silver from sale in this country.

Clarifying for the first time his announcement of a few weeks ago that the treasury was suspending its arrangements for purchase of 5,000,000 ounces of silver monthly from Mexico, Morgenthau said Mexico still could offer its silver for sale to the United States treasury on the New York silver market.

"We buy all silver offered to us on the New York market at the price fixed each day," the secretary said. "That has always been our policy and we have no change in mind."

In effect, the only change made by the suspension of the Mexican silver agreement, he explained, was to eliminate the 5,000,000 ounce quota which gave Mexico advance assurance of how much silver it could sell the United States treasury each month.

For more than two years the treasury fixed the price of silver at 45 cents per ounce on the New York market but after suspension of the Mexican agreement the price was cut to 43 cents per ounce.

Committee On TVA May Be Kept At Four

WASHINGTON, April 16 — Vice President Garner may decide to let the senate membership of the TVA investigating committee stand at four, an informed person said today.

Although the fifth senate place on the committee was reported to have been offered to Senator Gibson (R-VT), there was some doubt he would serve because of his reelection campaign. Senator Davis (R-Pa) was said to have declined for the same reason.

Minority Leader McNary (R-Ore) said he would have no further recommendations on Republican appointees if Gibson does not accept.

He denied, however, that Republicans were "boycotting" the committee because of Garner's failure to select Senator Bridges (R-NH), severe critic of the TVA.

If the investigating committee consists of five representatives and only four senators, some observers predicted the house members might seek to break precedent and elect one of their number chairman. A senator usually heads joint committees.

Senator Donahey (D-Ohio) generally has been regarded as the likely choice for chairman.

CHAPTER XXIX

The four porters trudged in with their banjos, costumed for a minstrel act. The audience applauded vigorously. There followed a half-hour of blended harmony, melodious spirituals, facetious dialogue, shuffling feet. The passengers were delighted, revived. The elixir of bored civilization—entertainment—was administered.

When the porters' quartet moved on to the waiting audience in the diner, a radio filled the club car with jazz from the coast, picked out of the desolate air of the desert to gratify those restless humans who had nothing to do except complain of imaginary discomforts. Couples who had paired off during the journey danced together, swaying about the cramped space. Soon they were lost in the ecstasy of rhythm and embrace.

Jaxie rested in Kirby's arms, dancing across the desert to the strains of magic music, and remembered with an ache of pity in her happy heart those brave pioneer women who once plodded these weary miles in thirst and heat and agony of mind, with helpless babies at their breasts and fantastic hope in their souls. If they could follow the men they loved into such a wilderness of danger and hardship could she not follow Kirby with a blind faith that dismissed all doubts. Stupid of her to let fear creep in to torture her.

How suddenly the most important things in life could happen! A word, a glance, a casual meeting, two people passing through a screen door in opposite directions—and all the rest of life was changed for both of them. Pure magic was this revelation of love which had just come to her. Two days before she had not nown Kirby was in the world. Tonight life held no purpose or meaning without him. To share life with him, to rest in his arms, to stand by his side, to create new life with him, was her destiny. It made her tearfully happy and joyously sad to think of it.

Mervin Gaines danced with his cheek pressed to Clarice's, murmuring detached words of endearment in her ear. But she was not lost in the rythm of love. This experience was but a symbol of the larger ones to follow. His arms which held here were the foundation of success, his words were paeans of praise from thousands of lips, his covetous eyes held the admiration of millions. Her thoughts projected themselves into the magnified future as a small beam of light shines through a projjector lens and enlarges the film jector lens. The picture she beheld was most gratifying.

Jaxie and Kirby said their lingering goodnights on the rear platform. The air was so cool that she wore a coat, with the deep fur collar hugging her lovely face and wind-tossed hair. She might have been the personification of speed, standing there beside him, not herself moving, but swayed by the wind and the train.

"I'm sorry it's almost over—this trip", she told him, with regret in her voice. "It has been so wonderful!"

"What made it wonderful?" he demanded, laughing into her eyes.

"You know," she confessed. "But why do all the wonderful things in life have to end so quickly?"

"Silly dear", he answered, with tender reproach, "this isn't' the end. It is only the beginning—for us."

"If all the rest can be as sweet as the beginning!"

"It will be!'" he promised her, with an arm close around her shoulders.

Clarice stood beside Mervin Gaines on one of the platforms where he had detained her in their passage from the club car. She suspected that his restless desire to move from one car to another was less the result of the two days' confinement in the train than an excuse for those secluded moments with her. Each time, he became more possessive. The situation both troubled and fascinated her. She had scorned the advances of many men, yet wondered why she seemed so powerless to deny Marvin Gaines the intimacies he claimed with growing insistence.

She was almost glad the morning would bring an end to this strange experience, and that she would then arrive at something like reality.

His hands lay along her arms, holding her close as he stood behind her. They faced the windowed door, watching the world fly past them. His lips rested on her hair, soft and shining and perfumed.

"The trouble with you, little girl", he was telling her, "is that you won't let yourself go. You struggle against yourself and against life. I can understand that. You have been fighting alone for so long to achieve what you want, that you have forgotten yourself. You are starved, and dont know it. You need to live, and live deeply, if you would 'be a great actress.' He turned her toward him and smiled down into her eyes.

She returned his smile, but stood tense within the circle of his arms. The more she tried to yield to his caresses—because she believed that she wanted to—the more her instinct recoiled.

"Do you know how happy I am to have found you like this" His deep, resonant voice moved Clarice a little despite her fear. 'Of course, I should have found you sometime—it had to be; but to be the one who takes you into the city of your dreams, to open the door for you—my darling. No doors shall be closed to you—hereafter—I promise.'"

Clarice trembled with happiness, and ventured to lay her slender white hand against his smooth-shaven cseek. Eagerly he pressed it to his mouth and moved his lips against it.

Fear crept back into Clarice's heart and she drew away from him. "Why," she marvelled uncertainly, "are you doing all this for me? I can't believe it's true."

He laughed happily. "Neither can I believe that by the merest chance I have made the professional find of a decade and found love—all in you! Can I tell you why? No more than you can tell me. When you have the answer to that, my dear, you will know all there is to know. You will be wiser than all the rest of the world. But why do you question it? Did you question the obstacles with which you have struggled alone for so long? No—you accepted them and conquered them. Then why not accept this miracle and enjoy it to the utmost? You ask me why . . I'll answer you . . .'" He lowered his mouth to hers. "Isn't that answer enough? If your success proves itself as well . . ."

"But perhaps it won't. I'm afraid . . ."

"Only time can prove that. It has to wait. But I can't wait for you."

"Just until I have started . . . ." she protested. "Let me forget everything for a while, except my work. I want to work so hard," she pleaded fervently.

"You will have to my dear. Success I cannot give you—only opportunity. But you will take the one and make the other a reality. It is love that cannot wait." His eyes burned down into hers.

She stirred in his arms. "It will have to wait, Mervin."

"Not if you are the real woman I think you are." His voice was husky with emotion. "It is tonight—or never."

"Oh—no!'"

"Is ambition worth the price?"

"I—don't know . . ."

"If you would please me . . ." He was tender, but his voice held no possibility of denial.

"I do want to please you—I do!"

* * *

An hour later the dressing room was quite deserted. Clarice was grateful for that privacy.

She dropped her clothes into a chair listlessly and sank down into the other seat with a complete attitude of weariness. Her eyes stared at the reflection of her loveliness in the mirror. But they saw, instead, the determined little girl who had come this far alone; struggling up the steep inclines, floundering in the ruts of despair, turning a deaf ear to temptation, enduring the pain of cruel loneliness. How strong that little girl had been. Hard as nails,-people had said of her. Selfish she had believed herself to be—and proud of it. Selfishness had been her armor in disguise. Only by its protection had she won out with the odds of life against her. ..

Yes, Clarice had come a long way, alone. Now the door to success stood open for her—only to require the sacrifice of her heart and soul as the price of admission.

Now They Have Chickens Coloring Yolks of Eggs, Experiment Reveals

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 16.—Even the hens can be put to work coloring Easter eggs, the poultry department at Ohio State university reported today.

At least, chickens can be made to color the yolks of the eggs, experiments have shown.

Prof. E. L. Dakan, head of the poultry department, said that eggs with red or blue yolks have been produced by feeding the hens dyes. He did not recall that yolks of other colors, except the natural yellow, had been produced, but conceded it might be possible.

Ben H. Flory, proprietor of a hatchery in Defiance, said that eggs with yolks of any desired color—green for St. Patrick's day, or any of the Easter colors, or even to match the table service—were possible.

He asserted, however, he did not intend to have his eggs conform to the holiday color schemes.

Professor Dakan said he found in experiments that certain dyes were absorbed by the chicken's blood and deposited in the yolks.

His department also has found it possible by the same process to tint with yellow the white feathers of a chicken or to modify a chicken's skin from yellow to white. The yellow was placed in the feathers by feeding the chickens lots of yellow corn and green grass.

The university has tried unsuccessfully to color the shells of eggs. Professor Dakan said that the glands which secreted the shell composition would not assimilate dyes.

The fact that some hen eggs are white and some brown is a mystery which has never been satisfactorily explained, Professor Dakan said. Brown and white egges will be produced by hens eating exactly the same food, he added.

Probers Continue Their Activities

COLUMBUS, April 16.—The Ohio senate's investigation of alleged graft in the state government ended Feb. 28, but reports of its disclosures promised today to linger on and on.

While little has been heard from the investigating committee since it issued a report early in March alleging corruption in the liquor and highways departments, Sen. Verner E. Metcalf said today that the investigators had been active since then.

A committee meeting was held last week in Cleveland and another is planned in Columbus next week at which the finishing touches will be put on the draft of a second partial report.

Metcalf, Marietta Republican and one of the dominant members of the committee, said numerous partial reports would be reqquired to round out findings and recommendations of the investigators.

"It would be impossible," he said, "to give the public a clear and concise picture of conditions in a single report. Therefore, we plan to issue several partial reports."

Testimony taken in the two and one half-month inquiry covers approximately 1,500 typewritten pages, Metcalf said.

Asked how much time would be covered by the releases on the partial reports, Metcalf said he did not know.

He said that James Metzenbaum of Cleveland, who was counsel for the investigating committee, was helping to prepare the partial reports.

Embarrassing

JERSEYVILLE, Ill.—The woman voter was apologetic and embarrassed as she offered Jersey township election officials her folded ballot, endorsed by the judges as official.

"I'm sorry," she said, "but I just can't remember all the names on the ticket."

It was the judges' turn to be embarrassed. They had endorsed and handed to her a blank ballot sheet.

DRAKE RELAYS WILL FEATURE STAR 2-MILERS

Pole Vault Also Likely To Be Big Event April 29-30

DES MOINES, Ia., April 16—A near record field will participate in the annual Drake Relays April 29 and 30 if the number of early inquiries is any indication, according to Franklin (Pitch) Johnson, director of the meet.

A substantial number of the nation's leading universities have shown interest and are expected to send a horde of stellar performers.

Johnson said there is a good chance that records will be established by university athletes in the mile and four mile relays, the sprint medley and possibly the distance medley, huttle hurdlers race and 440-yard relay.

"It's difficult to make any real predictions until the entries are received and the field can be sized up properly," he said. "but if we are given a fair break by the weather, there should be considerable record shattering."

He pointed out that only one new mark was established in the 1937 meet, because of unfavorable weather. That record was set by Ohio State, with a time of 3:27.9 in the university sprint medley relay.

Approximately 2,100 university, college and high school athletes took part last year. That number is expected to be exceeded this year on the basis of early interest, Johnson said.

A number of inquiries have been received from schools and colleges that have never participated in the meet. High schools from distant states, including Georgia, Mississippi and Oklahoma, have written that they will enter the meet.

The pole vault and two-mile run are expected to be feature events. The vault record is 13 feet, 11 inches, and was set by Warne of Northwestern in 1930. According to observers, a mark of at least 14 feet is in the offing.

Beefus Bryan of the University of Texas is considered an outstanding contender. In the recent Texas Relays he skimmed over the bar at 13 feet, 10⅛ inches for a new meet record, despite a strong wind. But he will be hard pressed by Padway of Wisconsin and Bill Habrle of Michigan State. Habrle has been doing more than 13 feet consistently this season.

Johnson believes the two-mile race this year will be one of the best in the history of the relays. It will draw such performers as Gregg Rice, Notre Dame's national collegiate champion of 1937; Mehl, Wisconsin's Big Ten indoor champion this year, and Halla, Yankton, S. D., champion of the Texas Relays this season.

Other outstanding two-milers who will be on deck are Bill Feiler of Drake, last year's winner, and possibly Tom Deckard of Indiana. Deckard has been timed at 9:05 this season. The Drake meet record is 9:10.6, established in 1936 by Don Lash of Indiana. Whitaker of Ohio State, an outstanding performer last year, also is expected to provide competition.

The University of Texas is expected to set a torrid pace in the sprint relay race. The Longhorns made a time of :42.3 in the Texas Relays this year.

Among leading teams expected to enter the meet are Wisconsin, Illinois, Texas, Missouri, Indiana, Oklahoma, A. & M., Michigan State and several West Coast schools.

BRIDGES GETS OPENING CALL

Right-Hander Will Hurl First Game For Detroit Tigers

DAYTON, April 16.—Right-handed Tommy Bridges now is slated to pitch the Detroit Tigers' opener against the White Sox at Chicago. George Gill had been the nominee until he let the Cincinnati Reds get off to a 13-run lead Thursday.

ST. LOUIS—The success or failure of the St. Louis Cardinals' and Browns' exhibition jaunts will be decided in their city series starting today. Each has a .500 average against major league opposition so far. Otherwise the rejuvenated Browns have won 19 out of 21 games.

DAYTON—Deacon Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds has been spotted breaking down and smiling for an occasionally fleeting moment. That's because Johnny Vander Meer, who usually needs an alley to find the plate, pitched five innings yesterday with no walks and only one hit batsman.

SALINA, Kans.—The Pittsburgh Pirates figure their seven regular infielders and outfielders batted .340 in ten games against the Chicago White Sox and Cubs this spring. Arky Vaughan led with 18 hits for a .516 average while Lloyd Waner, at .287, was th eonly one below the .300 mark.

Demings Cop Top Honors In Federal Bowling Loop

Never challenged during seven months of league activity, Deming Co. keglers formally annexed the championship of the Federal Bowling league last night as the eight-team circuit brought its 1937-38 season to a close at the Masonic temple alleys.

The Deming team was far out in front throughout the league season and at no time during the late stages of the race was it in danger of tumbling from the first place position.

Typical of the Pumpmakers wide margin of superiority over the other seven teams in the league is the 15-game advantage which they held over their nearest rival, the National Sanitary Shop.

Demings finished the season with a record of 63 wins and 21 losses, while the Sanitary Shop was 15 games behind with 48 wins and 36 defeats. The National Sanitary Office team finished in third place with 45 wins and 39 losses.

The Deming team is captained by Harvey Lottman and includes on its roster Lester Koenreich, high average bowler in the league with a mark of 170; Gilson Koenreich, John Meier, Wilson Morlan, Robert Schaeffer and Paul Gordon.

Like Demings, the Sanitary Shop and Sanitary Office were never threatened for their positions. These teams moved into second and third early in the season and remained there throughout the campaign.

The center of activity during the season was the battle for fourth place which was finally won by the Columbiana County Engineers with a record of 40 wins and 44 defeats.

The Electric Furnace finished three games behind the Engineers in fifth place, while the Salem News and Natural Gas Co. tied for sixth place one game behind the Furnace.

The Furnace team won 37 games and lost 47, while the News and Gas Co. each won 36 games and lost 48.

Brownie's Amoco Gas finished in last place with a record of 30 wins and 54 set-backs.

Every one of the last five teams in the standings at some time or other during the season held fourth place. The Engineers held this position for the longest time, but each of the other division teams enjoyed short spells as the fourth-ranking team in the league.

The final night's activity found one league record being smashed as Jess Youtz of the Engineers banged out a 622 series to better the mark of 606 set some time ago by Wilson Morlan of Demings.

Youtz combined games of 234, 189 and 199 for his record score.

SALEM KEGLERS APPEAR IN A B C

Eagles, Forgotten Five Teams to Perform In National Meet

A second delegation of Salem bowlers was in Chicago today, prepared for a fling at the maples in the five-man, doubles and singles events of the 38th annual American Bowling Congress tournament which comes to an end next week.

Members of the Salem Eagles and the Forgotten Five teams will shoot at the A. B. C. pins tomorrow and Monday as the last of four local kegling outfits to perform in the national classic. The Grate Recreation and Hotel Lape teams tried their luck at Chicago last month.

The Eagles team is composed of Mayor George Harroff, Paul Covert, Bob Tubbs, Merle White, Mike Hutter and Bill Finley. The Forgotten Five includes on its roster Bill Juergens, Keith Harris, Tom Reese, Joe Reese, Ed Maley and Bill Pauline.

The two teams will shoot in the five-man event at 8:30 tomorrow night. Doubles and singles will be rolled at 10:30 Monday morning.

Pairings for the doubles are White and Harroff, Tubbs and Covert, Hutter and Finley, Juergens and Maley, T. Reese and Harris, and J. Reese and Pauline.

The scoring peak of the A. B. C. tourney appears definitely to have been passed. For two days not a change has been made in the top 10 in the standing.

Tournament leaders are breathing more easily now, for with the wind-up in sight, it was doubtful if any new challengers will develop.

The 48-day stand will end Tuesday evening. Only seven more squads of five-man teams remain to take the 40 A. B. C. drives. Here and there on the list of 280 is a "name" team, but so far in the 1938 congress, "name" teams have accomplished little.

Not a single defending champion, team or individual, has threatened the top figures.

The last of the defending champions to appear, Gene Gagliardi of Mt. Vernon, N Y, bowed out yesterday. Far from making a strong bid for a second singles crown, Gagliardi posted 535, a score that will not even share in the 3,488 prizes.

In the team events last night, the Falls City Hi-Bru five from Indianapolis did a similar fade out. They had captured the title two years ago with a 3,089 count.

STAYTON, Ore.—A tear vase which was used in the Holy Land centuries ago was the oldest antique at an exhibit sponsored by the Stayton woman's club.

DERBY CHANCE OF CAN'T WAIT APPEARS SLIM

Selznick Colt Considered Doubtful Starter In Classic

By THOMAS H. NOONE

NEW YORK, April 16 — Can't Wait, Kentucky Derby hopeful of Myron Selznick, motion picture producer, appears to have only an outside chance if he goes to the post in the Churchill Downs special, on May 7.

Despite glowing reports from Churchill Downs, scene of the running of the 64th 3-year-old classic, the 1937 Aqueduct Junior Championship winner fails to impress the writer as a serious menace to such as Stagehand, Fighting Fox, Nedayr and others in the forthcoming 10-furlongs stakes. Let's take a look at the record.

As a juvenile the chestnut colt by Victorian-Winged Bee has only one good race to recommend him, the Junior Championship. In that race Can't Wait beat Fighting Fox by half a dozen lengths going away. He carried 114 pounds and circled the 6½ furlongs in 1:18, first-class time for Aqueduct, Redbreast, Chaps and Tiger were others beaten off on that occasion.

Prior to the Aqueduct stakes, however, the colt was anything but impressive. Making his debut at Santa Anita Park early in the season, he was beaten in his two races at the California track. Coming to Jamaica he was beaten in his first start by mediocre youngsters such as Ed Sullivan and Papa Jack.

He next was entered in a $4,000 claiming race at Belmont Park and failed dismally. Then the price tag dropped to $3,000 in a 5-furlongs claimer, and the son of Victorian ran the distance in :59 4-5 to win easily. After that score Trainer J. (Tommy) Taylor hiked the value to $4,500, and again his charge romped away from an indifferent field.

Taken out of the claiming ranks, Can't Wait added his third straight at Aqueduct by winning over a muddy track. The colt received a vacation during July and August, returning to competition on the last day of the latter month as racing returned to Aqueduct. This proved a rather tough assignment, but Can't Wait acquitted himself nobly by circling 5 furlongs in :58 2-5 to beat Regal Sun by open daylight.

Entering stakes competition for the first time in the Babylon Handicap at 6 furlongs, the Victorian juvenile finished fourth behind Redbreast, Mountain Ridge and Chaps. Then came the Junior Championship, after which he was retired for the season.

Returning to the races as a 3-year-old at Santa Anita Park, Can't Wait was beaten three times in as many starts. In his last race, the Santa Anita Derby Consolation, at a mile and a sixteenth, the colt dropped a head decision to Sir Raleigh, although he appeared full of run at the finish.

According to present plans, Trainer Taylor will start his Derby eligible in the Wood Memorial Stakes at Jamaica on April 30. Upon his showing in this mile and 70 yards stakes depends Can't Wait's 3-year-old program. The writer is inclined to the belief that the Kentucky Derby will not be one of his 1938 engagements.

Indians to Perform At Home Park Today

CLEVELAND, April 16. — The Cleveland Indians, ranked with Detroit as the only obstacles in the Champion New York Yankees' 1938 path, make their season's bow to the home town today.

The Tribe meets the New York Giants at Cleveland stadium in their 15th exhibition tilt of the spring tour. Bob Feller and Hal Schumacher are scheduled to open on the mound.

One Punch Boxers Rare

NEW YORK, April 1 — Harry Lenny, old time battler and one of the shrewedest managers of fighters in the game today, offers a different slant on punchers and punching.

"There are all kinds of punchers", says Lenny. "There's the fellow who can knock you dead with one punch. There's the fellow who numbs you and the one who gives you a sharp shock. And, of course, there's always the cream puff puncher whose taps wouldn't annoy a baby."

Lenny calls Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion, a great puncher but by no means the greatest who ever lived.

"Louis," says Lnnny, "is what I call a bruising puncher. His blows hurt and if you are strong enough to sample plenty of them you'll be paralyzed. But he's not one of those one-punch finishers. He hit Max Baer over 250 times right on the whiskkers and still Max wasn't unconscious when he was counted out on one knee.

"Henry Armstrong, the featherweight champion, is something on the same order although I think his punches are sharper. Jack Dempsey also was a crushing puncher but it took a lot of punches as a rule for him to finish his man.

"There have been very few one-punch finishers in the ring. These birds really are the terrific hitters. Sam Langford was that kind of a walloper and there was a kid down in Baltimore years ago—Chaney, a lightweight—who could stiffen his man with one sock."

Lenny would rather be knocked out by a fellow like Langford than by either Max Baer or Max Schmeling. "The two Maxes hit numbing punches," explains Lenny.

"When either of those fellows hits you on the lug, you're numbed and the chances are you're through for the rest of the fight, even if you don't go down. After either of them hits you, you're liable to go along for several rounds without knowing where you are.

"Schmeling proved that against Louis. After Max hit him with a right hand early in the fight, Louis said afttrward he didnt know what he was doing for the rest of the night.

"Getting punched by Baer or Schmeling is like getting hit with a club, and the combined effects of their punching is likely to cause more permanent damage than a punch by Langford. When Langford hit you a short sharp jolt the light went out on you and that's all there was to it. But if one of these other fellows keeps clubbing you for 10 or 15 rounds the effects are liable to last a long time."

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By SID FEDER

(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, April 16. — That Yankee infield misses Tony Lazzeri like they'd miss Jake Ruppert's bankroll if it weren't around on pay day . . . they'll probably get together and go to town before long, but right now,all of 'em, particularly Frankie Crosetti, are as jittery as a bride left at the altar, without old Poosh 'Em Opp's steadying hand . . . Brooklyn fans took one look at the Yanks dropping a 5-0 decision to the daffy Dodgers yesterday and wanted to know (in their best Flatbushese), "are dem da champs?" . . .

Gabby Street and Boiling Grimes are wearing Number 13 uniforms this season . . . prabably figure things can't be much worse anyhow . . . Jock Sutherland is thinking of moving Biggie Goldberg from halfback to full on Pitt's football machine, so that Dick Cassiano, Biggie's understudy, can break into the regular lineup . . . .

BillBrandt jots down a few National league notes: Max Lanier, Cards' rookie southpaw, made Pepper Martin's Mudcat "varsity" and is sure to stick now, because the band'll miss him . . . Kiddo Davis, who changed his mind about retiring from baseball and the Cincinnati Reds, is a partner in an accounting firm at Bridgeport, Conn. . . . freakiest training camp accident happened to Roy Johnson, Bees veteran, when a badminton "bird" hopped in his eye during a game in the camp hotel and laid him up four days . . . Spud Davis started out to be a pharmacist and wound up as a Reds catcher.

Whisper drifting around that the Giants will step in and the Indians out as "parents" of the New Orleans Pelicans in a year or two . . . passing thought: isn't it about time Whizzer White made up his mind one way or the other on that 15-grand offer to play pro football? . . . Bill Anderson, Milwaukee pitcher from Cambridge, Mass., wants to make the big leagues so he can get cash to send friend wifie to art school . . . Bill was on the 36 Olympic hockey team.

Roosevelt To Open Washington Game

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Roosevelt promised Clark Griffith, president of the Washington baseball club, today that he would be on hand to throw out the ball for the opening American league game here Monday. Washington plays the Philadelphia Athletics.

Griffith called at the White House to present a black leather billfold, with "F. D. R." initialed in gold and containing a season league pass, to the President.

To Mrs. Roosevelt, Griffith gave a black handbag, also initialed and with a season pass inside.

Schmeling Tackles Steve Dudas Today

HAMBURG, Germany, April 16.—Max Schmeling's fists, the only pair that ever rocked Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis to sleep, are expected to bounce off Steve Dudas' chin to equally good effect tonight when the German title contender and the Edgewater, N. J., trial horse clash in a fifteen-round bout.

For Schmeling this is the last in a series of practice sprints before he tangles with Louis for the championship in the United States on June 22. For Dudas it is a chance to make a handsome piece of change—a crowd of 20,000 is expected—plus the remote but ever-present possibility of an upset.

LOWER RECORD IN BOSTON RUN SEEMS LIKELY

Many Stars Among 200 Entries for April 19 Marathon

BOSTON, April 16.—With seven former winners among the star-studded field of 200 plodders, experts predict that the 42nd annual running of the 26-mile-285-yard Boston A. A. marathon will produce a new course record April 19.

Leslie Pawson of Pautucket, R. I., who set the record of 2 hours, 31 minutes and 1 3-5 seconds in 1933, will be among the favored starters. Third in 1937, the 134-pound park foreman is in better shape than any year since he made the record.

Winners of every race since Pawson's smashing effort in 1933 will line up with the field in Hopkinton at 12 o'clock for the long up-hill, down-dale grind that has broken the stamina of the world's best marathoners since the first running in 1897.

John Adelbert Kelly of Arlington, Mass., first once, second twice and fifth once in the last four years stands a good chance of becoming the third man in history to win the race twice. Kelly won the 20-mile North Medford road race March 20, beating several of the best New England distance-runners in near-record time.

The 1936 victor, Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, Narragansett Indian from Alton, R. I., handicapped by an operation last year, should be a factor if his limited training has prepared him for his best effort. Brown, whose tribal name is Deerfoot, finished 31st in 1937.

Dave Komonen, 39-year-old Sudbury, Ont., carpenter, named Canada's outstanding athlete in 1933, cant be overlooked although he never could reach the leaders last year, finishing 21st. Hot weather would enhance his chances.

Oldest of the former winners of the classic is Clarence DeMar, 49-year-old printer teacher, who led the field home in 1911, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1927, 1928 and 1930. The Keene, N. H. veteran has finished in the first 10 only twice since his last victory but he is still the most popular runner in the race to the 500,000 lining the course from Hopkinton to Boston.

The 25-year-old Canadian snowshoe champion who won the race last year, Walter Young of Verdun, Quebec, heads a strong Canadian delegation which includes Dunbar McCallum, Toronto, fifth last year; Gerard Cote, St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, seventh last year; and Walter Hornby, Hamilton, Ontario, seventh in 1937.

Other dangerous contenders are Fred Ward, New York City; Hugo Kappinen, Brooklyn; John Semple Beverly, Mass.; Leo Giard, Brockton, Mass.; Mel Porter, Newark; Paul Donato, Roxbury, Mass.; Pat Dengis, Baltimore; Joseph Piouffe, Worcester, Mass., and Bill Kennedy, Port Chester, N. Y.

Chief across-the-seas threat is Stylianos Kyriakides, 28-year-old Athenian who holds the Greek Marathon championship. e came 5,000 miles to win the race and incidentally, to bring a wreath of laurel picked on Athens' Hills. The wreath, a gold medal, and blistered feet are the runners only material reward.

Senators Meet Athletics, Yankees Take On Red Sox In Opening Tilts Monday

Prospects For Genuine Pennant Fight Again Wrapped Up In National League; American Loop Figured To Be One-Sided

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The clients having been worked into a suitable lather by as fancy a lot of spring ballyhoo as Connie Mack, the oldest inhabitant, ever saw, the 1938 big league baseball campaign at last is on the verge of getting down to business.

It starts with a swo-o-sh at Washington on Monday afternoon, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt is scheduled to watch a couple of very long shots, the Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics, bang each other about. At the same time, up in Boston, the Champion New York Yankees will begin what looks like another grand march, against the Boston Red Sox, weather permitting.

Only the two tilts are on Monday's program, but on the following day the cannonading will become general on all fronts. The New York Giants, two-time champs in the National league and slim favorites to win again, open against the Boston Bees at the Polo Grounds.

As for some seasons past, prospects for a genuine pennant fight between two or more clubs are wrapped up in the National league, which has taken a kicking around from the magazine writers this spring. In the opinion of a majority of experts, the Giants again will get their toughest competition from the Chicago Cubs, with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates also breathing down their necks, maybe.

Nothing of the kind is forecast in the American league, where the Yankees are deemed to have such a bulge over their nearest neighbors that only a general falling-apart of the veteran team could deprive them of a third world championship. The experts might be proved wrong, as often they have when they stuck their collective necks out, but that's the way they feel.

What's more remarkable about the rush to get on the side of the Bronx members is the fact they will face the Red Sox Monday without their greatest player, Joe DiMaggio, in the lineup. Myril Hoag, who figures to clout close to 50 points under DiMaggio's potential figure, will occupy Giuseppe's centerfield post. Yet the champs, who finished 13 games in front of Detroit last season, appear so powerful otherwise that they drew the votes of 52 out of 60 baseball writers in the Associated Press' annual plebiscite.

DiMaggio's stubborn holdout for $40,000, and Colonel Jake Ruppert's equally hard-headed refusal to offer him more than $25,000, has done much to enliven the training season. A lot of the boys thought they were fooling, but it doesn't look that way now. Starting Monday, Joe will be losing approximately $1,000 each week in salary, and it will take him close to a month to work himself into real playing condition when once he does report.

Offhand, the second most important occurrence of the conditioning campaign was the broken leg suffered by Luke Appling, shortstop and mainspring of the Chicago White Sox, who finished third in the American league last year. It was a hard blow to Manager Jimmy Dykes. With Appling certain to be out for a month of the campaign, the Sox might have difficulty clinging to the first division.

The Cleveland Indians, with a scrapping new manager in Oscar Vitt, look like the best "dark horse" in either league. Their only apparent weakness is at second base, but that, admittedly, is a bad place to have a weakness. Detroit, the popular choice to chase the Yanks home, has a similar gap at third base, and the Red Sox are short on pitchers. Also, they're getting no younger.

The Cincinnati Reds, with wise old Bill McKechnie calling the signals, are likely to be the surprise package of the National league and should climb out of the cellar up to fifth or sixth place. In Harry Craft and Frank McCormick they have two good-looking young hitters.

GRAND BARGAIN IN GOOD MODERN HOME
100 FEET FROM P .O. CORNER

I am offering the Edith Singer home at a greatly reduced price for short time only. Good 9-room modern home with 4 bed rooms. This home can easily be duplexed, but will rent as it is for $50.00 a month. No home in Salem has greater possibilities. The doctors and dentists are moving out of the high rent district into their own quarters. This home will adapt itself most favorably for a dentist, physician, real estate and insurance office, beauty parlor or home and offices combined. In 1928 I could have sold this home for $12,000. The lot value alone (50x200) is at least $4,000. Due to ill health, the owner wishes to leave for California, and, for quick sale, will include all household furnishings, including dishes, linens and silverware at the amazingly low price of $6,000

ONE OF THE BEST SMALL FARM BARGAINS ON OUR LIST

These 10 acres are located just at the edge of Winona on a hard road. House has 5 rooms with furnace, electricity, inside toilet. Plumbing for all bathroom fixtures has been installed and a modern bathroom may be had for only the cost of a tub and lavatory. Electric pump supplies ample water from both well and cistern. House under slate and in good repair.

Other buildings include fine little bank barn with stanchions for three cows. Good double garage. Lots of shade and a variety of fruit for home use. Here is a real bargain at our low price of $3,000!

WHY NOT USE GOOD JUDGMENT AND BUY A COUNTRY HOME?

22 acres located on a hard road about 3 miles from Salem. Children hauled to school. 6-room house with electricity. Good bank barn. All good outbuildings. A variety of all kinds of fruit. Running water in the pasture. This land is in tip-top shape and years ago, the owner of this farm was able to save about $1,000 a year; he did it by raising raspberries and strawberries and in addition kept five or six cows.

Now you should realize that when you live in town and are out of work you cannot "eat" your house. Most everyone still has an automobile; you could still drive your car as it would be necessary to drive back and forth to work. With the short working hours of today, and sometimes no work at all, by owning this farm you would solve the problem of keeping out of debt. Price $3,000. For more particulars see—

Davey Will Confer With Legislators On Relief Program

CLEVELAND, April 16. — Gov. Martin L. Davey expects to meet with leaders of both houses of the legislature next week and attempt to decide upon a statewide relief program.

The governor conferred recently with Mayor Harold H. Burton at the latter's request. They discussed a tentative relief program outlined by the Ohio league of municipalities.

"Of course, we can't agree on anything yet," said the governor after the meeting. "I plan to get the leaders of the two houses of the legislature together next week to evolve an agreed-upon program that we have some hope of getting through."

Calling of a special session of the legislature, Governor Davey said, would depend on whether legislative leaders could agree on relief plans.

The governor was not optimistic concerning the league outline. He remarked that it would be most difficult to obtain legislative approval of new taxes and that it would not be "so easy" to obtain legislation allowing the raising of local taxes.

"However, by some united effort we'll get something through," he added.

Mayor Burton said his conference with the governor was satisfactory. It was understood that the mayor told the governor that Cleveland would be unable to issue relief orders after today.

The amount of relief funds needed, the governor said, would "be governed somewhat by two factors—business conditions and what the federal government is going to do."

COUNTY'S CROP QUOTA IS SET

difference between the two figures.

An interesting innovation in connection with this work was announced Friday by the county office. Airplane pictures, taken from a height of about 10,000 feet, will be made within the next few weeks, covering the entire county. Using a motion picture machine, the plane will sweep back and forth until the entire area has been photographed.

The pictures will be enlarged and scaled so that the county office will have an accurate pictorial record of the district under its jurisdiction. Generally two counties are photographed in the same flight. The work is done under federal contracts and the aerial maps so produced are 98 and sometimes 99 per cent accurate.

Two Objectives

The association has two objectives—one soil conservation and the other establishing and maintaining a price parity on farm products. The latter is based on prices prevailing between 1909 and 1914, considered "par." The administration hopes to fix farm prices at these levels, avoiding fluctuation.

"The aims of the Agricultural Extension Act are generally misunderstood," Armstrong said, in speaking of the second phase of the association's activities. "Many people believe crop adjustment is an arbitrary curtailment of farm products without much rhyme or reason."

"No crop is limited," the chairman declared, "unless a definite surplus existed during the preceding year. Even then it is necessary for two-thirds of the farmers raising the crop concerned to agree to curtailment. Farmers growing more than 100 bushels are qualified to vote."

In speaking of soil conservation, Armstrong said there was an entire section in Yellow Creek township in which every farm had been abandoned because the soil was no longer fit for cultivation. Absence of "humus," an ingredient holding the soil together, is held responsible for this condition.

Curtailment of depleting grains and substitution of conserving crops such as hay plays an essential part in the program. If the farmers cooperate the association can maintain, eventually, unvarying farm prices and at the same time retain an active, producing soil, it is pointed out.

Members of Association

The county association comprises three members and two alternates from each township. The latter function only in case of incapacity. Each township has a chairman and these make up the county board of directors.

Officers are selected from board members. C. W. Heim, West township, is vice chairman; Glen Bates, Salem township, third committeeman; Wade Clark, Franklin township, first county alternate, and Clifford Shaw, Center township, second alternate.

Heroine Of Holdup Plunges To Death

NEW YORK, April 16—The 12-story death plunge of Norma De Marco, injured heroine of a Greenwich Village night club holdup two days ago, was termed by Police Inspector Michael F. McDermott today as "undoubtedly a suicide."

The attractive 22-year-old woman, clad only in a brassiere, fell to her death from the apartment of a friend, Miss Dorothy Lamarr, hat check girl at the Howdy club.

Miss De Marco, a patron of the club when it was held up early Tuesday morning, attempted to aid police. She kicked away a gun dropped by one of the three bandits, grabbed at another weapon and was struck heavily over the head in return.

A patrolman, now lying near death in a hospital, and the bandit trio were shot in the gun fight that followed. All the holdup men were captured.

More Transcripts For Jurors Filed

LISBON, April 16.—Four additional transcripts filed on Friday brought the total number of cases awaiting grand jury action next week to 40.

The new cases involved four Leetonia men accused of receiving stolen property. The defendants are Doran Smith, Harold Stokes, August Cerone and Robert Donnelly, alias Paul King.

The men are accused of receiving property valued at $91.14 belonging to the U. S. Vanadium Co., of Columbiana. They were taken into custody on information filed by James Martin of East Palestine and are at liberty under $1,000 bond each.

The grand jurors will convene Monday morning following a charge by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones. They will be asked to consider an exceptionally large criminal docket and in addition are expected to conduct an extensive probe into gambling conditions in Columbiana county.

Canton Plant Gets Vote Machine Order

CANTON, April 16.—The Berger Manufacturing Co., unit of Republic Steel Co., will begin work next week on a $300,000 order for electric voting machines for Bergen county, New Jersey.

The contract was signed yesterday at Hackensack, N. J., between the Bergen county board of freeholders and the Shoup Manufacturing Co. of Philadelphia, sales agency for the Berger works. Fifty men are to be added to the local force when assembly begins.

BRITAIN, ITALY COME TO TERMS

Spanish Government, In Meantime, Sliced In Two by Rebels

(By Associated Press)

Britain came to terms with Italy today, Czechoslovakia reiterated a desire for understanding with Germany and Germany looked with more than casual interest on reports that Britain and France were buying, or trying to buy, large consignments of planes from the United States.

While this jockeying for position went on in European diplomacy and war preparedness, Spain's insurgents, having sliced government territory in two, attempted to widen the breach.

Will Struggle On

Planting of the insurgent red and gold on the Mediterranean shore between Barcelona and Valencia did not promise an immediate end to the war. It seemed likely that government Spain would struggle on like the two halves of a severed earthworm.

The Anglo-Italian accord, previously approved by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Mussolini, needed only the signatures of Il Duce's foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, and Britain's ambassador, the Earl of Perth, to put a formal end to tension which in the last three years had brought the two powers to the verge of war.

France was expected soon to follow Britain's rapprochment lead, the better to deal with a powerful Adolf Hitler at the other end of the Rome-Berlin Fascist axis.

Italy's press carefully pointed out, however, that renewed British friendship in nowise replaced collaboration with Germany.

Feverish preparations continued in Rome for a grandiose reception to Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, who is to visit Mussolini May 3.

May Go to Edge

It was indicated today that Hitler may go at least to the edge of Vatican city when he visits Rome May 3.

This interpretation was taken from an order by the Fascist merchants union to stores along the main streets leading to St. Peter's to decorate their windows.

Czechoslovakia's president, Eduard Benes, emphasized his desire for understanding with Germany by proclaiming Czechoslovakia's most inclusive amnesty for political offenders—of principal benefit to discontented Sudeten Germans whom Hitler had promised to protect.

"We are sincerely searching for a lasting understanding with all our neighbors," Benes told parliament.

German interest in British and French aerial rearmament with American help was heightened by an address in Berlin on Wednesday by U. S. Ambassador Hugh Wilson who said there was no way of being sure that the United States would remain aloof from any major conflict.

Plan London Trip

As a forerunner to a possible Italo-French rapprochement, it was announced in Paris that Premier Daladier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, would go to London April 28 to discuss ways of coordinating Anglo-French policy. Chamberlain invited them.

While a political crisis simmered in Tokyo over policy in the war on China, Japanese troops at Yihsien were battered by fresh artillery, aerial and infantry attacks. The Chinese were determined to repeat the great victory of Taierhchwang.

Japan's premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, facing the insistence of army and navy leaders for sweeping measures to insure victory in China, was reported threatening to resign.

The war, navy and home ministers were leading a faction demanding application of the national mobilization law and the dispatch of heavy reinforcements to China.

Carrollton Factory Plans New Election

WASHINGTON, April 16. — The labor relations board ordered today a second election at the Carrollton Metal Products Co., Carrollton, O., to determine whether 100 production and maintenance employes wish to be represented by the International Association of Machinists (AFL), the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America (CIO), or neither.

The machinists won a previous election, but the board set aside the election on the ground the "men had been intimidated by the company."

Navy's Newest Blimp Given Test Flight

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, April 16.—The 150-foot navy blimp L-1, the first airship built by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corp. in three years, nestled today at Wingfoot lake after its first test flight.

The craft cruised over this vicinity for several hours yesterday. Lieut. Comdr. W. E. Zimmerman was aboard as navy inspector. Unofficial observers said the flight apparently was successful.

The L-1 has a helium capacity of 123,000 cubic feet. Goodyear-Zeppelin has under construction another non-rigid ship of greater size.

Bugs Topple Poles

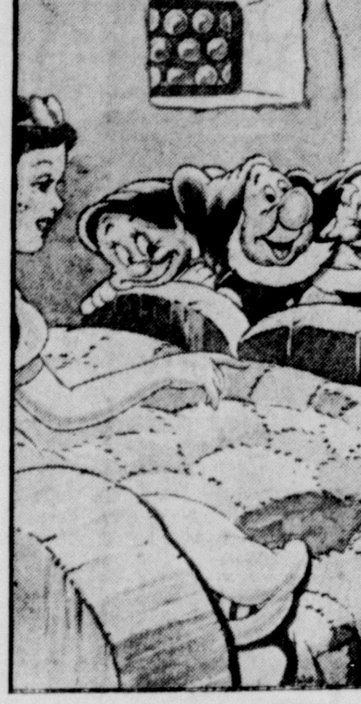
CLARKSBURG, W. Va. — Termites stopped the presses.

As the noon whistles blew, down toppled five electric power line poles in a busy street.

Power company employes said bases of the poles had been attacked by termites.

A newspaper and business houses were without electric service for an hour.

Theater Attractions



A scene from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which continues Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State theater.

The present attraction at the State, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," continues through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The cartoon by Walt Disney has enjoyed tremendous popularity since its appeal is not limited to children alone.

Romance, high comedy, pathos, excitement, color of breath-taking beauty and tuneful music! Mix them well and you have "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," Walt Disney's first step into the feature-length production field. This is the verdict of the first night audience.

Combining every element which spells entertainment, the seven-reel animated feature brings to life the beloved Grimms' fairy tale, known in almost every land the world over.

The State will feature "Merrily We Live," the last three days of the week, Thursday through Saturday. Constance Bennett and Brian Aherne have the leading roles in the mad comedy about a household whose mistress has a penchant for aiding tramps. She takes them into her home, treats them as one of the family and the household is in a constant state of turmoil.

Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Patsy Kelly, Ann Dvorak, Tom Brown, Bonita Granville and Marjorie Rambeau have supporting roles.

Katharine Hepburn, turning comedienne, has Cary Grant as co-star in "Bringing Up Baby," which will be featured at the Grand Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Charlie Ruggles, May Robson, and Walter Catlett are seen in the supporting cast. "Baby" is a leopard which Miss Hepburn, spoiled heiress, uses to help win Grant. The latter has the role of a serious minded professor, engaged in putting together the bones of a giant dinosaur.

Two pictures will be seen at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday. The first, "Adventure's End," teams John Wayne and Diana Gibson in a story of mutiny and romance aboard a ship bound for the south seas.

The second picture is a mystery story, "The Black Doll," and gives leading roles to Nan Grey, Donald Woods and Edgar Kennedy.

Charles Starrett in "Cattle Raiders," will conclude the week's billing at the Grand showing Friday and Saturday.

Buck Jones in "Headin' East" will be seen at the Grand for the last times tonight.

On the Stage—Not a Picture

OUR YEARS OF EXPERIENCE HAVE PROVEN . . . .

That many persons believe one thing about their eyes when just the opposite is true. Many believe their eyes to be normal when an examination proves them to be very abnormal. Others believe they are losing their sight when they cannot read as well as they used to. They, too, sometimes are wrong.

You do not have to guess about these uncertainties when you submit to an eye examination. Come in for a scientific eye examination and know the truth about your eyesight.
